About This Session

Parents and guardians will learn the impact these topics are having on children and mental health in our community and leave with resources and appropriate steps to take if they're made aware of cyberbullying and inappropriate issues related to internet safety.

About the Presenter

Mr. Jesse Trail is a Secret Service Agent with the United States Secret Service and an Ambassador for the National Center for Exploited and Missing Children. He works with parents and students across the state to provide education and resources on cyber safety.
